DUTCH HORIZONS

FATHER-DAUGHTER PROJECT

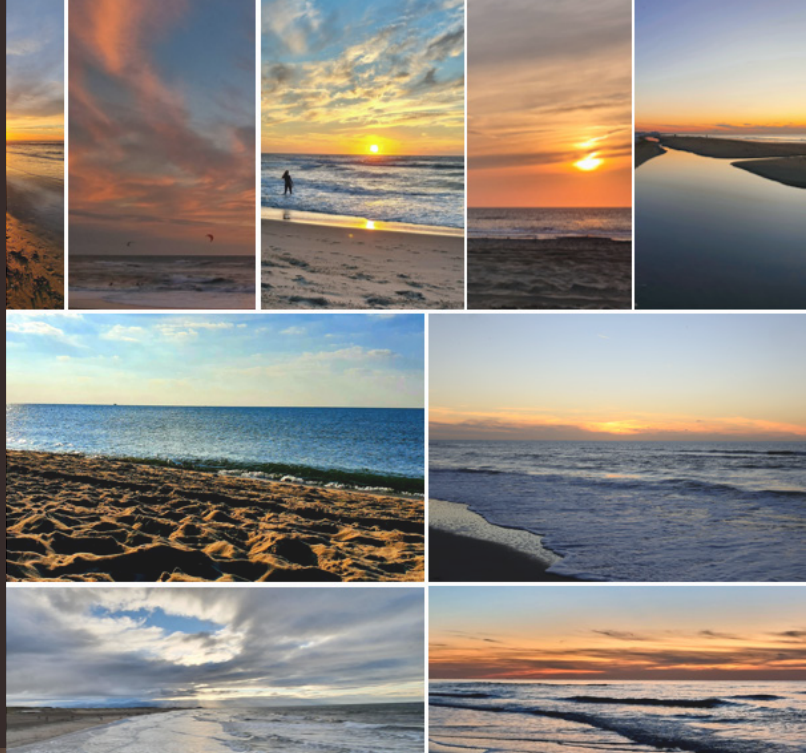

What began as a father-daughter project of Bert and Roosmarie Voss driven by a shared passion for nature and design, evolved into a collection of four rugs. The Dutch Horizons collection is inspired by the North Sea, translating photography and design into unique rugs with a story.

PARTNERING WITH CSRUGS

Thanks to CSrugs' advanced software program, we were able to paint with different colors, pile heights, and materials. The result? Rugs that not only tell a story, but above all make a visual impact and enhance the space. To top it all off, it even improves the acoustics of the space.

THE STORY

Dutch Horizons began as a personal project. After Bert moved to The Hague, he became fascinated by the endless vistas of the North Sea. Almost instinctively, he started capturing the interplay of sun, sea, and horizon, without a clear goal in mind.

CSRUGS INTO THE PICTURE.

As an innovative manufacturer of custom-made carpets, CSRugs offers unparalleled design freedom. Their advanced software allows for precise control over pile height and color gradients, adjusting every 'shot' of 18 threads. This technique unlocks endless creative possibilities and remarkable flexibility.

FREEDOM FOR MENEERVOSS.

This creative freedom immediately reminded Bert of the vast horizons over the North Sea. Together with his daughter Roosmarie, a graphic designer, the idea was born to transform these seascape images into carpets. Each rug captures the essence of a season. Together we translated the connection between photography, storytelling, and textile design. Through extensive trial and error, this vision evolved into a full-fledged collection of four stunning rugs—marking just the beginning of an ever-expanding series.
